John McKinstry

Mesmerising & atmospheric

...John's rural scenes combine aesthetic beauty and technical panache
with an overwhelming
sense of peace.

John finds much of the inspiration
for his painterly
landscapes in
the shape of
isolated farms
and cottages
on remote
hillsides and
moorland,
along the rugged
Atlantic
coast, or on the gentle
slopes of the Sussex Downs.

In creating his pictures, John uses layers of paint which he builds up then treats by scratching, washing or 'splattering' before adding the next layer to form the texture and depth which characterises his work.

Although he received no formal artistic training, John has always painted and has spent over thirty years researching and refining various techniques and mediums to best achieve the evocative interpretations of the landscapes.
